As we hit the final stretch of the fall Presidential campaign, your social media feeds are likely jammed with paid political ads or clutter from the feeds of your “friends,” your phone is ringing off the hook with robo calls, and you are wondering, “How can I get through the next 30 days with a bit of peace?” Even if the ads are for your candidate or your party, at some point you may want to tune in to a favorite movie, but which movie will you pick? There is an app for that!

Beckley

You may be thinking of a line from a movie: “Frankly, my dear, I don’t give a damn!” or “Go ahead, make my day,” or perhaps “Bond, James Bond.” That may inspire you to watch Gone with the Wind, Dirty Harry, or Dr. No. You may be thinking of a favorite actor and thinking of picking one of his many movies, such as a Kevin Costner baseball movie, a Kevin Costner football movie, a Kevin Costner golf movie, or any Kevin Costner movie. Of course, there’s always a Tom Cruise movie: “You complete me.” “I feel the need, the need for speed.” (from Jerry Maguire and Top Gun). Possibilities seem endless. There are so many choices, how do you choose?

Pick up the IMDb app at the App Store, Google Play, or Amazon Apps. Do a search for your favorite movie or select what’s trending. The folks at IMDb have rated the top movies of all time, and viewers as well can add their ratings to the mix. The top-rated movies have nothing to do with the box office or the Oscars, so it may surprise you to learn that the top rated movie is The Shawshank Redemption, a 1994 hit about two men bonding in prison, starring Tim Robbins and Morgan Freeman. Mr. Beckley has long professed it as his favorite movie of all time (back to that in a minute). You can conveniently check in using your Amazon account and look up Academy Award winners by year or movies that are trending and view movie trailers, as well as movie news.

It seems none of my favorites are top rated. I wonder why critics don’t like Kevin Costner or Tom Cruise? Now back to Mr. Beckley. He just peeked around the corner and whispered, “Dr. Zhivago.” I guess he figured since I was writing a compliance column, he’d better come clean. So, Dr. Zhivago it is. I never would have known! 📺
